

Dennis Hauger first from the start to the end

The Norwegian has more than 3" advantage on the second at the end of the race

Hungaroring, 6 luglio 2019 – The “matador” of the qualifying practices Dennis Hauger (Van Amersfoort Racing) has no difficulty in leading the entire race 1 on the extremely hot Hungarian track (29.1°C the air and 49°C the asphalt). His advantage on Gianluca Petecof (Prema Powerteam), absolute leader of the Championship and who will need to take care of the upcoming Norwegian, grows constantly lap after lap.

In the final standings of race 1 we find from third position Paul Aron (Prema Powerteam), Roman Stanek (US Racing) and Alessandro Famularo (Prema Powerteam), who for various laps battles with William Alatalo (Muecke Motorsport), who will not be able to pass and will finally be sixth.

An accident between Oliver Rasmussen and Kruetten determines the entry of safety car that, when about to exit, has to move back on the track due to an accident by Amna Al Qubaisi, who retires with a broken front left suspension.

Among the Rookies it is the third of the absolute standings, Paul Aron, to be first, followed only one second away by Roman Stanek, while further away is Joshua Duerksen (BWT Muecke Motorsport)

Tomorrow race2 will start at 10.25 and race 3 at 15.35.
